

A man standing at Winnipeg can see the thermometer 40 degrees below zero.

For cold weather, first and other distasteful, January 1883 has never had a rival.

Oscar Wilde should be in this country now to discuss with Freddie Gehardt. It would be the best team of fools ever hatched up this side the Atlantic.

One good thing can be said of the present house of representatives, and that is that the whisky men can't dictate terms to it. But in the next house, which will be democratic, they will have things pretty much their own way.

Governor Butler has lost a feather from his presidential cap. He couldn't defeat Senator Hoar. It may be a little surprising to the governor that matters about the universe move on just as if he wasn't elected governor at all.

The city treasury of Washington is ahead $6 in consequence of the recent snow storm in that city. Attorney General Brewster, Commissioner Ramm, and General Hazen, of the signal service, were each fined $2 for not sweeping the snow from their sidewalks.

John McCullough is counted one of the greatest tragedians of the age, and his two weeks' engagement in Philadelphia brought $19,000. But Langtry, who cannot act, realized $25,000 for the same time in Chicago. A little beauty in form and features, coupled with a sensational advertising dodge in the shape of "Freddie" will draw the biggest crowd.

A young man of twenty years named George A. Gordon, went to Boston ten years ago for the purpose of learning some trade for a living. But he didn't learn it. He made a few friends, and some of these advised him to study for the ministry. He did so, and at the age of 30 he has been called to the pastorate of the Old South Church, at a salary of $8,000. This is what clear grit has done.

The Inter Ocean gives expression to the following stalwart sentiment: "If some of the opponents of Senators Ferry and Windom would follow the wise example of Mr. Crapp in Massachusetts and withdraw their opposition and end the strife, they would do well for themselves and for the country. The opposition to these two distinguished citizens of Michigan and Minnesota has not been conducted by honorable methods. If the people of those states could give expression there is little doubt that both would be returned to their places in the senate and thanked for faithful and honest services already rendered."

Governor Pattison, of Pennsylvania, who takes the gubernatorial chair at 32, was elected as a reformer, although he was the regular democratic nominee. The reformers would rather see him elected than that stalwart republican—General Beaver—and so to defeat him and make the election of Pattison sure, they voted for Stewart, which somewhat eased their consciences. Well, they have Pattison in the chair, but he has brought up a storm of indignation from the reformers, for the reason that about the very first official act he did was to appoint one Lewis C. Cassidy, attorney general. Now Cassidy is not a reformer, but a democratic politician, a shrewd puller of the wires, and so on, and some of the men and the newspapers that loudly sung the praise of Pattison, now cry that he has made a blunder which is worse than a crime. It is hard work to suit the average political reformer—one that stands aloof of the great parties and looks down upon them with contempt. It has been demonstrated a great many times that there is nothing so hard to please and so useless as a political hermaphrodite.

The pushing enterprise of the Milwaukee Sentinel has enabled it to print in its issue of this (Saturday) morning, a detailed plan of each floor of the burned Newhall house from the basement to the roof. By these plans it can be seen at a glance, the use to which every inch of room through the entire structure was put; the relation of each apartment to those surrounding; the means of communication from floor to floor, and the numerous avenues by which escape from fire and other calamity was possible. They also show by whom every private room was occupied on the night of the conflagration, and whether the occupants were saved or lost. So far as they can be fixed by the best authority, after a thorough and careful revision, there were 134 persons in the building, of whom ninety-five were saved, and fifty-nine lost. In comparing the location of the rooms of the lost on some of the floors it will be seen that where some escaped unharmed, others placed much more conveniently for escape lost their lives. Of the lost, 25 were servant girls.

The state of Iowa, is without a prohibitory law, and people can go on making and selling and buying and drinking intoxicating liquors, just as if the constitutional amendment had never been voted upon. The supreme court of that state has declared the prohibitory amendment inoperative and void, and there is no other way out of it than to go over the whole ground again from the beginning, which will take two years before another amendment can be passed, if passed at all. When the state senate concurred in the assembly bill, the prohibitory amendment read as follows:

No person shall manufacture for sale, or sell, or keep for sale, as a beverage, or to be used in any intoxicating liquor whatever, including ale, wine and beer.

But when the amendment was voted upon, the four words printed in italics, were omitted, and how and why they were omitted no one appears to know. After this amendment was adopted by the people on the 27th of June last, the four words omitted in the amendment as voted upon, were supplied, but of course this was unconstitutional and could not stand. Just what the legislature will do can hardly be predicted; but the opinion prevails that there will be no prohibitory amendments adopted by the people of that state.

AN ARCTIC WINTER.

The Western States and Territories Swept by a Wild Blizzard.

Trains on Several Branch Roads Snowed in and Abandoned.

Business of All Kinds Suffering from the Effects of the Cold Wave.

MINNESOTA.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 20.—The worst blizzard of the winter struck St. Paul early yesterday morning, and swept this section and the entire northwest all day and is still raging. A railroad official who has had many a tough fight with blizzards says the one at Fargo Thursday afternoon and yesterday was the worst he ever knew. It was a terror, and put a grip on all wheels until railroad managers were glad to cry out: "Trains abandoned." The storm came from the west on Thursday, and therefore its force was partially spent before reaching St. Paul and points a few miles eastward therefrom. On the western end of the Omaha line the wind subsided near Omaha, but the cold there intensified down to 30 degrees below zero at midnight. Reports dated 2:30 p. m. quoted high winds on the Sioux City division of the Omaha line, and a still greater blow on the St. Paul division. At Sioux City the mercury was 30 degrees below zero at 4 p. m., yet there was sunshine all along the road. From railroad sources it is learned that the heavy snow struck St. James before the hour of noon, and according to close observations made at St. Paul at 11 o'clock, causing a drop in the mercury at that station of about 10 degrees below zero. Reports obtained here in the afternoon stated that all trains on the Western division, freight and passenger, east or west bound, had been abandoned owing to the high winds that drifted the snow so badly as to render it utterly useless to attempt to clear the tracks from the connection with the Union Pacific to St. Paul. As fast as plowing and shoveling accomplished anything the tracks filled up again. As soon as the wind goes down track clearing will be commenced. In the Lake Superior region four inches of fresh snow fell on the rails, making two and one-half to three feet on the level. Trains from that section were nearly on time. On the eastern division the road was heavy and the flanges were filled with hard snow. Freight trains were stopped, but passenger trains were running.

St. Vincent at 5:10 p. m., recorded 45 degrees below zero; Crookston 37 below. At other points south to Clear Lake the mercury ranged down to 25 below. At St. Cloud it was clear, where the wind was not quite as strong as at St. Paul. On the east and west lines the mercury ranged 25 to 15 below.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 20.—The worst storm of the season has prevailed throughout Minnesota and eastern Dakota. The thermometer here tonight at 10 was 20 below, and falling. Throughout Minnesota and Dakota temperatures varying from 15 to 30 below are reported with general high wind, and the air full of fine snow or frost that cuts like hail. Particularly severe winter in this state. A light, dry snow accompanied by a strong north-west wind has caused the railroads running west and south to suspend all trains. The delay will only be temporary. The temperature is very cold, the thermometer at midnight registering 22 below.

OMAHA, Jan. 20.—At 6 o'clock yesterday morning the mercury indicated 20 degrees below zero. During the middle of the day it was in below. It is the coldest snap known here in many years. The cold wave came from the west. It is exceedingly cold along the whole line of the Union Pacific. The effect of the storm on the railroads was very serious. Several trains were abandoned. The Union Pacific is clear of snow, and trains arrived and departed as usual, with the exception of being three or four hours late, caused by waiting for delayed trains from Chicago. All the eastern trains connected with the Union Pacific except the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Wabash. Trains from the east are up or less late. The Burlington and Missouri system in Nebraska is all clear, except between Hardy and Wymore on the Southern division. Travel was entirely suspended on the section of the line between the Chicago, Minneapolis & St. Paul and Omaha. The Missouri Pacific express which left here Thursday night for St. Louis got stuck in a snow-bank five miles south of Papillion, and the passengers returned to Omaha. The train and the Union Pacific train back to Omaha. Travel is more or less interrupted on the Missouri Pacific.

LESCOT, Neb., Jan. 20.—Thermometers at the capital and two hotels registered 35 degrees below yesterday morning. At Ashland the thermometer ranged from 25 to 35 below, and at Nebraska City 20 degrees below. The cold wave ranged violently along the central branch. Seven snow-plows are clearing the line. Trains are all delayed. A passenger train from Omaha to St. Paul was delayed here twenty-four hours to clear the line. The blizzard prevailed on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road through southwestern Kansas. There was slight delay to trains, but considerable damage to stock. The cold is intense here, worse than ever known before. The mails are nearly all delayed. Business is greatly interfered with. The weather is still cold. Engineers express fear that their engines will freeze up. The snow is not deep, but drifting, before high winds. It is from five to seven feet deep in the cuts west and north of this city. Vigorous efforts are making to clear it out. Freight is moving slowly. Last night it was 10 degrees below zero.

DAKOTA.

SIOUX FALLS, Jan. 20.—The mercury dropped to 35 degrees below zero early this morning. Considerable delay Thursday morning, and yesterday morning, causing a general blockade on all lines of railroad. Trains to and from Omaha line were suspended yesterday, but on the line to the Sioux City and Sioux Falls division of the Milwaukee & St. Paul was run, and that was compelled to retreat before reaching its destination.

YANKTON, Jan. 20.—The blizzard and severe cold for the past twenty-four hours—22 degrees below zero—are the severest since 1881.

ANOTHER.

The Quincy House, at Quincy, Illinois, Entirely Consumed with Great Loss.

The Inmates Rescued Alive, but Several Were Badly Injured in Escaping.

QUINCY, Ill., Jan. 20.—A fire broke out in the Quincy house at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The fire was discovered by one of the guests on the third floor, who at once gave the alarm. First Clerk James L. Griffith sent the porter to every room to alarm the guests, many of whom were in the dining-room, though a large number of them were still asleep.

The fire burned slowly, giving time for all to escape; men, women and children rushing to the street, but few waiting to dress. Kate Burton, the chambermaid, was badly burned about the head and face, but her injuries are not considered serious. William Stackelback, a police detective, who had gone into the burning building to rescue any one who might need assistance, had his leg broken, by falling down stairs when blinded by the smoke. There were about fifty regular boarders, fifteen transient guests and forty-two servants in the hotel, nearly all of whom lost everything.

The house was one of the oldest hotels in the west, having been opened in 1838 and cost originally $100,000. It was valued at $20,000, and was insured for $15,000. The fire originated on the west front in the top story, it is supposed, from a defective flue. Mr. Fay, formerly of the Rouse-Lafayette house, built the Quincy house, and he had it insured for $100,000 on the stock and fixtures in the hotel, and $1,000 on the furniture and the fire marked 25 above zero. The drummed had a severe time in working.

CONGRESSIONAL.

County Bonds and Two-Cent Postage—State Contracts and Soldier's Homes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Mr. Harrison, from the committee on territories, yesterday reported a bill authorizing the county of Yankton, Dakota, to issue bonds. He said the majority of the committee was satisfied of the desirability of the part of the people of that county to have such legislation as would enable them to refund their debt and get rid of the taint of repudiation. He would ask the senate to consider the bill at an early day.

Mr. Garland gave notice that three members of the committee approved of the bill, and would oppose its passage most strenuously.

The postoffice appropriation bill was then taken up. Mr. Plumb said he would ask the senate to dispose of it.

Debate ensued on the clause proposing a reduction of the postage to 2 cents, and at the close of the morning hour, the postoffice bill was laid aside, and the senate resumed the consideration of the tariff.

Mr. Miller offered an amendment to make the duty on filled bottles 1 1/2 cents per pound, instead of 30 per cent ad valorem, as in the bill. Lost—New, 26; noon, 27.

The tariff bill was adopted. Mr. Harrison offered an amendment fixing the duty on rough plate-glass at the same rate as in the present tariff, adopted.

Mr. Harrison reported to the senate from the committee on territories a bill to authorize the county of Yankton, Dakota, to fund its repudiated railroad indebtedness in new bonds. This is preliminary to asking the admission of Dakota to the union as a state.

HOUSE.

Mr. Moore of Tennessee, introduced a joint resolution proposing constitutional amendment granting congress to provide by appropriate legislation for the legal enforcement of the obligation of contracts entered into by any state in the union.

The house went into committee of the whole, with Mr. Rich of Michigan, in the chair, on the private calendar.

At 2 o'clock the committee rose, and the yeas and nays were ordered on its passage, pending which, on motion of Mr. Kellogg of New Jersey, the house at 3 o'clock adjourned, and a Republican caucus was held immediately.

FORTY PERISH.

A Gunpowder Factory Blown Up at Mulden, Holland.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 20.—In the gunpowder factory at Mulden, yesterday, three terrible explosions took place, unroofing nearly all the houses by the concussion, and damaging the neighboring towns and villages. Windows in the city, which is eight miles from Mulden, were broken. The loss of life and property is not yet ascertained, but it is thought that no less than forty persons have perished.

Twelve bodies of victims of the explosion have been discovered. Twelve others were in the building at the time of the explosion. The town is greatly damaged. The inhabitants are leaving their houses. There is no fear of further explosions.

The National Board of Trade.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The national board of trade, which yesterday closed its session, passed resolutions in favor of a postal telegraph and the encouragement of American shipping, and avers to the continuation of the Hawaiian treaty.

The Bankrupt Dress Association. New York, Jan. 20.—The stock of goods belonging to the Co-operative Dress association, was sold to a mercantile firm for $35,048, that being 55 per cent of the value. The receiver proposes to declare a dividend of 80 per cent.

Briefs.

—Attend church to-morrow!
—The municipal court was quiet to-day.

—The cold weather seems to have come to stay all winter!

—There was no business of importance in the circuit court to-day.

—Judge Patten gave a tramp three days board at the Harper house yesterday afternoon.

—A boy baby came to-day to bless the home of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Pullen, of the third ward.

—No. 2 January corn sold at 69½ cents at one o'clock to-day in Chicago, 4½ cents higher than at the close of the board yesterday.

—Maggie Mitchell will have as large and fashionable an audience as has been in the opera house for a year, if the advance sale of reserved seats is any criterion.

—We understand that some of our city coal dealers have raised the price of coal to nine dollars per ton, while some continue their sales at eight dollars, the old price.

—The case of Smith vs. First National bank, which was on trial before Judge Sloan, of the circuit court, was finished last evening, and given to the court, who reserved its opinion.

—"Hazel Kirke" is like the sun with its shadow and sunshine—pathos and joy delightfully mingled. It will be performed at Myers opera house next Monday evening.

—Marshal Hogan made complaint against Peter Myers this afternoon, before the municipal court, to compel him to comply with the law regarding the doors to his opera house.

—The fact that the thermometer in this city registered the cold weather down below zero, did not deter many people from attending the dancing party at the Janesville grange hall last night.

—Rev. F. C. Gruetzmacher, pastor of the German M. E. church, of Fort Atkinson, will preach in German in the Sunday school rooms of Court Street church to-morrow afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

—Marshal Hogan is determined to enforce the law and order of the common council, in relation to the doors of the opera house, and if the doors at the entrance are not made to swing outward, some one will have some costs to pay.

—The common council of Freeport are trying to reorganize the fire department of that city. Their department is now a volunteer institution of the old school, and the council are discussing the question of organizing a paid department.

—The mercury in the thermometers in this city took a rapid downward tendency yesterday afternoon, indicating a change in temperature of forty degrees, from noon until nine o'clock last evening, when it indicated twelve degrees below zero.

—The chairman of the highway, street and bridge committee, has caused the ice to be cleared away from the town pump at the corner of West Milwaukee and Franklin streets, and the thirsty, who stop to quench their thirst, this cold weather, are happy.

—Mr. C. W. Seaver, who was formerly in business in this city, lost heavily by the recent fire at Neenah, where he was engaged in the boot and shoe business. His stock was estimated at $3,000, upon which there was an insurance of $3,500, and only $500 worth was saved from the fire.

—The storm of snow and wind which prevailed in this city this forenoon, prevented people from being out doors, except those that were obliged to be out. Consequently the streets were very quiet, and not the usual Saturday's business done by our merchants.

—Mr. Cyrus Davis, of the town of Janesville, is now getting the building material ready for a new house, which he proposes building on his farm in the spring. The house will be similar in construction and appearance to that of Mr. S. Truison in the first ward of this city.

—Mrs. J. W. Bintliff has been engaged as organist in Trinity church. Mrs. Bintliff is a thorough musician and a good organist, and we congratulate the church in securing her services, and with the excellent choir of Trinity, will render the choral part of the service in a most interesting and inspiring manner.

—Mr. Elmer Main, of the east side fire company, cleared away the ice from under Milwaukee street bridge this forenoon, so that the fire engines can, in case of necessity, get at the water. Mr. Main upon learning that there was a possibility of the question of the removal being referred to the highway, street and bridge committee of the common council, concluded that he would forestall public opinion, and do the work himself.

—The snow storm which commenced here at an early hour this morning, has continued through the day, and the high wind has caused the snow to drift badly; the passenger train on the Chicago and Northwestern road due here at 1:40, was several hours behind time, and on reaching the round house in this city at 3:35 o'clock, the baggage and passenger coaches were all thrown from the track by a broken rail, and the cars shoved into a snow drift, which will detain the train in this city some time. No one was hurt.

Bower City Rifles.

The army of the Bower City Rifles, in the Bennett block, was the scene of much gaiety last evening, it being the occasion of the fifth annual reception and dance of that company. Notwithstanding the extreme cold weather, the army was well filled at an early hour, with as fine an audience as ever assembled in that hall, and at eight o'clock the literary and musical part of the entertainment commenced. The following programme of exercises, which had been published for the benefit of the public, was followed, with the exception of the address by Hon. Pliny Norcross, who was unable to be present, owing to the death of his father-in-law, Mr. Peole. His number was well and ably filled, however, by Dr. J. B. Whiting, who entertained the assembly with a very happy and eloquent speech, which was received with great applause.

PROGRAMME.

1—Overture.....Anderson's Orchestra
2—Address.....Hon. Pliny Norcross
3—Recitation—The Ride of Jennie Hemming
4—The "Ride of Jennie Hemming"
5—Anst. Patience's Doughtiness.....Capt. Tom O'Sullivan
6—Music.....Anderson's Orchestra
7—Recitation, Hattie McEwan
8—Recitation, Hattie McEwan
9—Recitation, Hattie McEwan
10—Children's Litany.....Miss Gertrude Hemming
11—The Drummer Boy of Mission Ridge
12—Music.....Anderson's Orchestra

The numbers assigned to Anderson's orchestra were well rendered, the reputation of this band of musicians was well sustained by their performance last evening, and they received a great deal of applause. The recitations were all of a high order, and well delivered. The "Ride of Jennie Hemming," by Miss Jennie Hemming, "Hattie McEwan," by Miss Jennie Hemming, were well delivered for misses of their years, and they received the hearty applause of their listeners.

Miss Lillian Childs De Long, recited in a pleasing manner, "Mumford's Pavement," Miss DeLong is rapidly gaining in public favor as an elocutionist and reader, and a home entertainment now days is hardly complete without a part being assigned to her.

Miss Gertrude Hemming, in her recitation "Red Jacket," and Miss Lettie Shortney's "Anst. Patience's Doughtiness" received the applause of the audience for the happy manner in which they recited and performed their numbers. Miss Hemming's "Red Jacket," as also Miss DeLong's "Mumford's Pavement," were diversions from the regular announced programme.

The drilling by the Bower City Rifles was part of the entertainment, and the manoeuvres of the awkward squad, under command of Mr. Charles Snow, made considerable fun for the spectators; but the bayonet exercises of a picked squad of nine, under command of Lieutenant Brown; and the children's lightning drill, by a like squad under command of Sergeant LaGrange, was as near perfection as it is possible for men to be in the manual of arms. The boys were loudly applauded.

At the conclusion of these drills, the guests were greatly surprised at witnessing the efficiency in drilling by Corporal J. Clark and Mr. J. Koebelin, who went through with Upton's manual of arms and bayonet exercise. They were perfect, and can take their position at the head of the column.

The entertainment being concluded, the seats were removed, and dancing was commenced, and continued until a late hour, all having a pleasant, happy, social evening's enjoyment; and the fifth annual reception of the Bower City Rifles may be written down as a grand success. The supper was furnished by Messrs. Parker & Evenson, of the popular east side restaurant, and was all that could be wished.

Will Reorganize.

It has been reported on the streets that the Bower City Rifles would disband at the close of their enlistment term, which is the 15th of next August, but we are authorized to say that the Rifles will do no such thing. When their present enlistment expires they will reorganize, and if such a thing is possible, they will be made stronger than ever, not in numerical strength merely, but in general efficiency. The Rifles now stand second to no company in the Wisconsin national guard in the manual and in drill, and they don't propose to be surpassed by any militia company in the west. Under the command of Captain LaGrange and his lieutenants, the Rifles have accomplished much during the past two or three years, and the success they have won will stimulate them to attain a still higher degree of efficiency. That they will do this there is no doubt. There is a good deal of young, vigorous blood in the company coupled with an ambition to excel, and this with the ability of the officers, make the Rifles one of the best and most progressive companies in the state. Instead of disbanding they will unite their individual strength, and join hands in the effort to make more conquests.

A Practical Idea.

With every snow storm comes the annoyance of sidewalks covered with snow. Probably in a majority of instances the snow is removed from them; but still there are many walks on which the snow is allowed to remain, which proves a decided inconvenience to those who are compelled to walk from their homes to their business places. Of course, it is the duty of the occupants of each block to see that the snow is removed for the accommodation of foot passengers, but in many cases this duty is neglected during every fall of snow. It has been suggested, and the suggestion is a wise and a practical one, that each ward should have a snow scraper, drawn by a horse, and a man should be employed to clean the walks, and the expense paid out of the ward fund. Comparatively, the expense would be a trifle, while the benefit resulting therefrom to the general public would be much more, than counterbalancing the expense. Under this system there would be no sidewalks covered with deep snow day after day, all would be benefited alike by having the snow properly and thoroughly removed, and the expense would be exceedingly small when apportioned among all the taxpayers. We understand that the subject will be brought before the common council for consideration.
